The first system of music consists of two staves. The treble staff contains a melodic line with a series of eighth notes and quarter notes, some beamed together. The bass staff provides a harmonic accompaniment with chords and single notes. There are dynamic markings of p and f throughout the system.

Tempo I.

The second system begins with the tempo marking "Tempo I." and the performance instruction "dolce espress. p". The treble staff features a melodic line with a fermata over the first measure. The bass staff has a steady accompaniment. The system concludes with the instruction "scherz." and a fermata over the final measure.

The third system continues the musical piece. The treble staff has a melodic line with a fermata over the first measure. The bass staff has a steady accompaniment. The performance instruction "p dolce espress." is placed above the treble staff.

The fourth system features a melodic line in the treble staff with a fermata over the first measure. The bass staff has a steady accompaniment. The performance instruction "f dim." is placed above the treble staff.

The fifth system concludes the piece. The treble staff has a melodic line with a fermata over the first measure. The bass staff has a steady accompaniment. The performance instruction "rit." is placed above the treble staff, and dynamic markings "p" and "pp" are present.
